

Visiting Writers & Series

James Richardson

April 22nd, 2009

7:00 pm

TRLC

APRIL 2009

James Richardson's most recent books are Interglacial: New and Selected Poems and Aphorisms, which was a finalist for the 2004 National Book Critics Circle Award, Vectors: Aphorisms and Ten-Second Essays, and How Things Are. He has recent work in Best American Poetry 2001, 2005 and 2009, The New Yorker, Slate, Paris Review, Poetry Daily, Science News, Geary's Guide to the World's Great Aphorists and Great American Prose Poems. A new collection, By the Numbers: Poems and Aphorisms, will appear in 2010. Richardson is Professor of English and Creative Writing at Princeton University.

StockPot Reading

*Sponsored by
The Faculty of Arts and Humanities*

STOCKTON
THE RICHARD STOCKTON COLLEGE OF NEW JERSEY