

Please announce to your classes:

Monday, 18 December
4:30 till whenever
Place to be determined

The Really, Really Big Lit\Lang Holiday Workshop Bash

Please help us to celebrate the close of the term

The festivities will include food, music, and good old fashioned intellectual fun

Feel free to bring a dish to pass or just join us with your companionable appetite

As in years past this gathering will rightfully be called a Workshop. To foster the appropriate spirit, the literary quiz on the reverse (not perverse!) page has been devised. Please match all three columns.

created and distributed by the flyer committee all rights reserved

“Here’s to the maiden of bashful
fifteen;
Here’s to the widow of fifty;”

Richard Brinsley Sheridan

Farewell Address

Keats

Elegies

“Intelligible as it is . . . that the efforts of thinkers have always been bent upon the “reduction of all physical processes to the motions of atoms,” it must yet be affirmed that this is a chimerical ideal. This ideal has often played an effective part in popular lectures, but in the workshop of the serious inquirer it has discharged scarcely the least function.”

Shakespeare

Twelfth-Night

Theognis

Endymion

George Washington

Practice sentence used in type-writing)

Anonymous

On the Principle of the Conservation of Energy

Ernst Mach

The School for Scandal

Othello

“Let me now . . . warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of party.”

“Now is the time for all good people to come to the aid of the party.”

“The food that to him now is as luscious as locusts, shall be to him shortly as bitter as coloquintida.”

“One finds many companions for food and drink, but in a serious business a man’s companions are very few”

“If music be the food of love, play on.”

“Wherein lies happiness? In that which beckons
Our ready minds to fellowship divine.”