

Punctuate correctly; explain your punctuation.

1) However you looked at it the interior of the dictionary makers house was unusual.

2) At first glance it was overflowing, with hard-bound books, however, at second glance, other details became apparent.

3) However, many you looked at pictures, knick knacks, sculptured bookends, wall hangings curtains and rugs displayed similar designs.

4) The design however, was unlike standard decorative motifs.

however how ever

5) The lexicographer had a rich word hoard of knowledge, however, his decorative taste was simple and uncompromising.

6) Throughout the house he had repeated, variations of two words “how” and “ever.”

7) “How” and “ever” are fine words; however if repeated they lack a certain intrigue.

8) However, much his family asked him to diversify, the lexicographer; however he tried, could not agree.

however how ever

9) They had hoped that on his sixtieth birthday he might begin to branch out.

10) He didn't see the need, however; which was unfortunate.
